NATION'S YOUNG BANKERS TO MEET

Delegates From Many Cities Now Arriving in Richmond.

MR. BRYAN IS TO SPEAK

Secretary to Deliver His Address on Thursday—Has Not Announced His Subject.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 15.—Richmond, the foremost banking city between Baltimore and New Orleans, becomes this week appropriately the Mecca of the nation's young bankers, who will rally to this city the last half of the week to attend the twelfth annual convention of the American Institute of Banking. The congress opens at the Jefferson Hotel at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, to remain in session until Saturday. President Byron W. Moser arrived in the city last night.

A local committee composed of Geo. Keesee, R. Latimer Gordon, C. L. Williams, H. G. Proctor and D. E. Mountcastle, assisted by members from the Richmond chapter of the institute, has completed arrangements for the entertainment of 800 or more delegates that are expected to attend. The completed program provides for business sessions twice daily except one afternoon, which will be given up to diversion, and for entertainments every evening of the meeting.

The convention, it is expected, will [illegible] to the city between 100 and 150 [illegible]n, wives and relatives of the [illegible]ates. The daily program makes [illegible]e provision for their entertain- and a special committee, with Christian H. Clarke as chair- has been named to look after wants.

Among the speakers who will address the convention is William Jennings Bryan. The Secretary of State will speak at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the Jefferson Hotel auditorium on a subject which has not yet been announced.

The Secretary's stay in Richmond will be short. He is booked for an address Thursday night at the University of Virginia, and will leave Richmond for Charlottesville early in the afternoon.

DAUGHTERS OF LIBERTY.

Official Visit to Friendship Council of This City.

On last Friday night Friendship Council, No. 28, Daughters of Liberty, held an interesting meeting at their hall on north Pitt street, the occasion being the official visit of the State Councilor, Mrs. Matilda Daywalt, of Richmond, Va.

The State Councilor was accompanied by Mrs. E. Toler, associate national councilor of Swansboro, Va.

The hall was tastefully decorated with national colors and the words, "welcome" hung in the folds of the United States flag, over which was placed six small flags.

The address of welcome was delivered by Charles R. Herbert, chairman of the good of the order committee, and was responded to by the State councilor and the associate national councilor, both giving glowing accounts of the growth and great good that the Daughters of Liberty, as a patriotic organization is doing.

A musical program was rendered and speeches were made by members of Friendship Council of this city, and Hope and Decatur Councils of Washington, D C., after which ice cream and cake were served.

WILLARD W. C. T. U.

Meeting Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in Trinity M. E. Church, Sept. 16. All welcome.

MASONIC NOTICE.

A called meeting of Alexandria-Washington Lodge No. 22, A. F. & A. M., will be held tonight, September 15th, at 7:30 o'clock for work.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"Big Tim" Sullivan, who had been missing for several days, was run over by a train on the morning of August 31 and killed.

The Park, one of the best-known hotels on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning, causing the loss of one life and destroying property to the value of $12,500, covered by $6,500 insurance. Theodore M. Palmatory, a guest, was killed.

An hour after Miss Bessie Schriner, a member of a widely known family and socially prominent throughout Schuylkill County, Pa., jokingly predicted that she would not come back alive from a trip on a motorcycle, she received fatal injuries at Mount Carbon and died three hours after admission to the Pottsville Hopital. She was twenty-three years old.

An aviator named Vliacu, who recently designed an aeroplane, which he christened the Mad Fly, fell during a test last night at Bucharest, Roumania, and he was killed. He was preparing to fly over the Carpathian Mountains.

Rather than give up his ambition to be a poet or seek aid from wealthy relatives, Rochard Devinez, of New York, died friendless in a field on the outskirts of Cleveland, Ohio, yesterday. The body was identified after lying four days in the county morgue. In his pockets were found several poems. He had often declared that his family had offered to help him, if he would give up poetry for a business career.

The Rev. W. M. Hill, one of the principal Methodist clergyman of the vicinity of Summerville, Ga., William Bagley, W. H. Dempsy, Washington Reynolds, and Benjamin Reynolds, his son; William Hayes, and his young wife, Mrs. Ethel Bagley Hayes, have all been arrested on orders of Judge Moses Wright in a case that alleges a most curious entanglement. Rev. Mr. Hill's arrest was ordered by Judge Wright because of the allegations that he induced the signing of an agreement between the other prisoners by which they were to withhold evidence when the cases of the others were called. William Hayes was originally charged with having misled the daughter of Washington Reynolds, and jilting the girl when he married Miss Ethel Bagley, the daughter of William Bagley. On his arrest, his father-in-law refused to give young Hayes any aid, and then Hayes' wife, Bagley's daughter, made grave charges against her father.

CHARGED WITH LARCENY.

William Griffin, a former Alexandrian, who has been missing from the city for the past six months, was arrested on Saturday night in Royersford, Pa., charged with stealing a watch, chain and charm from Harry Poss, of this city, on April 25th. Officer Ferguson left here yesterday morning and brought Griffin back to this city. No requisition papers were needed as the prisoner stated he was perfectly willing to come here for trial. The watch was found in a pawnshop in Philadelphia, but no trace of the chain and fob can be had. The three articles were valued at $95.00. The case was called in the Police Court this morning and was continued.

POLICE COURT.

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Thomas Jones, colored, suspected of lunacy, was dismissed.

Marshall Williams and Fred Brown, both colored, charged with disorderly conduct, forfeited their collateral by failing to appear.

Frank Jackson, colored, charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

INDEPENDENCE DAY IN MEXICO

Apprehension That Celebration Will Cause Trouble.

OUTBREAKS LIKELY.

Congress Will Convene and Huerta Will Read Message on Mexican and U. S. Relations.

Washington, Sept. 15.—With the dawn tomorrow of independence day in Mexico events will transpire which may change the whole course of American history. Officials in Washington are awaiting these events with interest and not a little anxiety. Not only is it the day when the hot-blooded Mexicans are expected to give long rein to their patriotism, but it is the day on which the Mexican Congress convenes, and the day when President Huerta will read to that body a message on the United States Mexico negotiations.

For weeks citizens of Mexico who have not heretofore taken up arms have been undergoing military training. The reason given by the Mexican government to the outside world for this training is a desire for a monster parade in the capital tomorrow. Obviously, however, the purpose is to present the United States the spectacle of a large, trained, and patriotic militia. Care will have to be exercised by the Mexican government to keep the ardor of these recruits in check. There are too many Americans still in Mexico City not to make the occasion one for alarm.

As far as the administration here is itself concerned, the prospects of tomorrow's developments is not causing undue activity. President Wilson returns tomorrow, not because of any "warning dispatches" from Mexico, but because he announced on leaving Washington last Thursday that he would return tomorrow, and because he hopes before the end of the week to be called upon to sign the new tariff bill. Evidence that the administration itself, meaning the President and his advisers, is not much concerned over the Mexican situation is further found in the fact that Secretary Bryan has not yet canceled his lecture engagement tomorrow in Staunton, Va., 225 miles from Washington.

What anxiety there is, is being shown by officers of the War and Navy Departments and subordinates in the State Department, all of whom have had more actual experience than their superiors in dealing with Latin-American "situations."

Among these the fear is plain that the presence of large numbers of troops in the Mexican capital tomorrow and the spreading of Huerta's message, may be the signal for serious anti-American outbreaks.

MURDER MYSTERY SOLVED.

Perpetrator Confesses and Attempts to Cut His Throat.

With the arrest early yesterday of the Rev. Hans Schmidt, assistant rector of St. Josephs' Roman Catholic Church, New York, charged with the murder of Anna Aumuller, a domestic servant, the mystery surrounding the finding twelve days ago of parts of the dismembered body of a girl in the Hudson river was solved. Schmidt has confessed, and at the time of his arrest attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a safety razor blade.

"I killed her because I loved her so much," Schmidt told his captors, but the police version of the motive for the crime is that the young woman was about to become a mother. He had married her through a ceremony of his own performing, without witnesses.

According to the police and the district attorney's office, Schmidt has confessed even to minor details of his crime. He killed his companion with a butcher's knife and cut up the body with the knife and a saw. The deed was committed while the woman slept, shortly after mdnight on September 2, in an apartment in Bradhurst avenue, New York, where the priest had placed her five days before.

When her heart had ceased beating, Schmidt carried the body from the bed to the bathroom, and, placing it in the tub, immediately began his gory task of cutting it up. With the keen knife and the saw he cut off her head, arms, and legs. Still fearful of detection, he then cut the body in two.

Five bundles, wrapped in bed clothes and papers, were made of the six parts. Five times Schmidt left the apartment house with a bundle to cross the Hudson river to the Jersey shore. Five times he leaned over the stern of the ferryboat in midstream, and gently gave the river his burden, Then he returned to his church.

The stains of the girl's blood still discolored the bathtub when detectives searched the Bradhurst avenue apartment. Schmidt told the police he had taken the mattress on which she lay when dealt the death blow, under cover of darkness, to a vacant lot nearby, and burned it.

In the apartment, among other things, the police found a marriage license issued in New York last February, and bearing the names of the priest and the murdered woman. This license had been used.

According to Schmidt's confession, he went through a marriage ceremony with the girl. In this ceremony, Schmidt was both priest and bridegroom. There were no witnesses.

A gayly-colored pillow of unusual pattern led to Schmidt's apprehension. This pillow, stained with blood and soiled with the filth of the river, was wrapped around a portion of the body. The detectives traced the pillow to its manufacturer; the manufacturer traced it to the dealer; the dealer traced it to Schmidt. And the police, tracing Schmidt and the girl, knew all about both of them hours before they arrested him.

Perhaps the most startling feature of the murder was the reason for his crime, given by the prisoner to the Rev. Luke J. Evers, chaplain of the Tombs, in his cell yesterday afternoon.

"He told me," Father Evers said, "that he had been directed to commit the crime by St. Elizabeth, who was his patron, and who had ordained him. He told me that he had received a visitation from St. Elizabeth, to whom he prayed incessantly, and that the saint had told him there must be a sacrifice, which must be consummated as was the Biblical sacrifice of Abraham."

Schmidt said he was ordained in Mainz, Germany, in 1904, and when asked him by whom, he said, 'Bishop Kierstein.'

He also said that he had been ordained by St. Elizabeth.

He admitted that he had been accused as an imposter by Bishop Kierstein, and had been imprisoned in Munich.

PRICES OF FOOD STILL SOARING

Three Per Cent Higher Than This Time Last Year.

SUGAR STATIONARY.

Necessaries of Life, According to Official Figures, Advanced 15 Points in Two Years.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Food prices were 3 per cent higher in June of this year than they were June 15, 1912, and nearly 15 per cent higher than they were on equal dates two years ago.

Official figures indexing this advance have been prepared by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, Department of Labor. They are official and were obtained from big and reputable firms. Similar figures on the high cost of living were taken in thirty-nine other cities. In practically all cases there was an advance. Sugar is the only one of a number of staple articles that showed no increase throughout the forty cities.

The cost of living last June was approximately 60 per cent higher than the average between 1890 and 1900.

Taken from June 15th, 1912, to June of this year, the following variations in the prices of food in this city were found:

Pork chips, 4 per cent; round steak, 1; smoked hams, 8; hens, 4; sirloin steak, 3.5; rib roast, 4.8; lard, 0.19; corn meal, no advance; potatoes, 15 per cent less; butter, 2.5; eggs, 0.20; milk, no advance, price remains same; flour, 10 per cent less than last year.

In comparing the figures from the 40 cities this year with those obtained between 1890 and 1900, the following remarkable advances were noted:

Bacon advanced 16.2 per cent; smoked ham, 14.1; pork chops, 13.4; hens, 11.8; eggs, 11.7; round steak, 10.1; sirloin steak, 9.8; lard, 7.2; rib roast, 6.8; butter, 5.8; and milk, 4.1. The other four declined as follows: Potatoes, 31.9; sugar, 15.2; wheat-flour, 7.7; and corn meal, 3.9.

EARLY FALL WEATHER.

Abnormally Low Temperatures During The Past Few Days.

The weather during the past 48 hours has been chilly, and many persons have resorted to thicker clothing. The temperature yesterday savored more of October than that of September.

Weather prophets who a few weeks ago predicted an early fall are jubiliant over the present cool wave.

Early autumn frosts in the lower lake region, the middle Atlantic states, New England and the extreme northwest are predicted by the Weather Bureau for Tuesday. The weekly forecast says:

"The week will open with rains continuing in the Southern States, and extending into the Ohio Valley and the Middle Atlantic States, and about Tuesday unsettled, rainy weather will prevail all over northern and central sections east of the Mississippi river. There will also be local showers early in the week over the Rocky Mountain region and the northwest, but by Wednesday and Thursday generally fair weather should prevail over all districts.

"There are no present indications of any unusually high or low temperatures during the week, but frosts will occur Monday morning over the lower lake region, the Middle Atlantic States, New England and the extreme Northwest; on Tuesday morning over the Northwest generally, the Middle pleteau and the Central Rocky Mountain region, and by Wednesday or Thursday morning probably over the Northern and Western Upper Lake region.

"Temperatures will be rising over the Northwest and West after the middle of the week, accompanied by falling pressure, and by the end of the week the weather over those sections will again be unsettled and somewhat colder."

Oyster season now open at Rammel Cafe.

POTOMAS SWAMP WHITE SOX.

The Potomac Athletic Club defeated the White Sox in their last game of the seaon by the score of 9 to 2. McCarthy started on the slab for the White Sox, but was driven to the cooler in the fifth inning, Potomacs making six runs off his delivery. Hicks followed McCarthy, but could not stop the Potomac's attack. Brown featured the game for the White Sox, by making a great one hand stab of Lyon' hard hit to deep center Potomacs' stole bases at will.

Raison and Nalls worked for the Potomacs; Moore hit by one of Hick's fast shoots and was taken from the field.

MUST GIVE THEIR NAMES.

Anonymous Communications Will Not Receive Attention.

The fire committee of the City Council have received a communication signed "A Third Ward Tax-Payer," in which the author makes a charge against a paid employe of the fire department.

The committee will of course, pay no attention to such a paper.

In this connection it may be stated that many communications are sent to the police department alleging charges that disorderly proceedings are carried on here and there, but as the senders suppress their names and give no witnesses, the police can virtually do nothing.

Some time ago a woman entered the Gazette office with a communication which she desired published. It was a violent attack upon the police force for alleged dereliction of duty. When told she must put her name to the article, the woman flinched, and when informed that such a production should have the name of some responsible person attached, she reached for the missive and started to walk away. She was then asked to leave her name with the publishers. This she declined to do.

All charges should be backed up by those who prefer them. Council committees, the police and newspapers are not public bludgeons. When people make charges they should have the nerve to back them up and not throw the responsibility upon others.

WILSON WILL BE BACK TOMORROW

Final Stage of Fight with Congress for Currency Legislation.

VICTORY ON TARIFF.

Executive Determined Bill Shall Pass Before Close of Present Session of Congress.

Washington, Sept. 15.—President Wilson will return to Washington tomorrow, prepared to take up the final stage of his fight with Congress for currency legislation. Already the President has practically won his victory on the tariff, which has passed both houses, and is progressing rapidly with the conferees. His ability to make Congress stay in Washington until it has passed the currency bill also will be the final test of power.

The President is determined that the currency bill shall pass before the present extraordinary session adjourns. What is more, he is determined that his currency bill—the Administration bill—shall pass, and without a single change in any important feature. He has to deal with a Congress tired out by its labors in what has already been a record extra session, and sullen from the prospect of no vacation. Yet so far he has had his way. The "big stick" has been at work, and no surer seen of its effectiveness has been seen than in the capitulation of the Democratic Senate steering committee to the demands of the President. Before the conference last week between this committee and the President five of its members were outspoken in declaring their opposition to currency legislation at this time. After the meeting, lasting 90 minutes, it was announced that the committee had agreed to push currency legislation along as rapidly as possible.

Hearings on the bill willbe resumed tomorrow by the SenateBanking and Currency Committee.

KILLING OF G. E. SMITH.

Conductor Fell Between Cars and Was Struck by Train on Opposite Track.

The funeral of George E. Smith, conductor on the Southern Railway, who met with a fatal accident at Amherst at an early hour Saturday morning, took place from the residence in Washington this afternoon.

Conductor Smith was in charge of the second section of train No. 38, northbound, when he was killed by a southbound train. He fell off his train and under a southbound freight which was running on the opposite track. The conductor's body was badly mangled, but when the accident was discovered, it was taken up, prepared for burial and taken to Washington on No. 10 Saturday morning.

Second 38 was put into commission several months ago as a regular train and the equipment is made up generally of mail, baggage and express cars, with an occasional "dead head" car for Washington. The train carries no passengers but is operated upon a first-class schedule.

Friday night the train had a sleeping car in its make-up, which was being taken north for repairs. The trap door over the steps at one end of the sleeper had been removed and the fact that Conductor Smith forgot this condition for the moment cost him his life.

As the train was speeding past the station he went to the platform, and evidently expecting to step upon the door, he walked into the steps and was thrown from the train, directly against the other on the opposite track.

San Francisco—One death due to bubonic plague was admitted by Dr. J. D. Long, of the United States Marine hospital, here.

Louisville—That a mule is a "common carrier" in the same sense as the greatest railroad, was the decision of the Circuit Court, in the suit of A. G. Byens, against a casualty company.

MADE DESCENT ON ARK

Whisky, Beer and Soft Drinks Captured Yesterday By the Police

Descending on an ark floating in the Duke street dock early yesterday morning, Chief Goods and a squad of policemen captured twenty cases of beer, a keg of beer, three gallons of whisky, and several cases of soft drinks. John Arrington, who is alleged to have been in charge of the floating barroom, was taken to police headquarters, but subsequently, by direction of Justice Thompson, was released on his recognizance for his appearance in the police court this morning. The case was continued until Wednesday morning. The ark is usually kept at anchor at Jones' Point, on the line of the boundaries between Maryland and the District of Columbia, and Sunday afternoons for the past several months has been frequented by both white men and negroes.

A year or more ago an ark which occupied a place in the river a few yards beyond the District of Columbia line was captured by the police and the proprietor fined $50 for selling liquor on Sunday and without a license. An appeal was taken to the Corporation Court and the judgment of the Police Court was reversed, as the warrant charged that liquor had been sold illegally, but it was shown the sale was beyond the jurisdiction of the state of Virginia.

The movement made yesterday was based upon the Byrd law, which provides for the seizure of liquor when found in quantities reaching three gallons, as it is presumed the owner has procured it for the purpose of violating the law.

Well-Known Octogenarian and Confederare Veteran Passes Away

Major William S. Greene, a distinguished Confederate soldier and one of the best known engineers in the south, died at 7:50 o'clock this morning at his residence, 317 north Washington street. Major Greene has been in failing health for the past two months. He was 81 years old. During the war he served as engineer under General Tratler, with title of major of engineers.

Major Greene was one of the engineers of the Virginia Midland Railway, now a part of the Southern Railway system, and also of the Georgia Midland Railway. During the Cleveland administration he was a civil engineer connected with the geological survey in Montana. A few years ago he was appointed receiver of the water works system at Brunswick, Ga., and his latest position was general manager of the Waterworks Company at Columbus, Ga.

Major Greene is survived by his wife and two children, Dr. Louis S. Greene, of Washington, D. C., and Miss Mary B. Greene of this city. Four sisters also survive him, Misses Jennie, Ursula, Eliza and Sallie Greene. He was a son of the late Edward Greene, who many years ago was treasurer of the Orange and Alexandria Railroad. A few years ago Major and Mrs. Greene celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage.

Funeral services will take place tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock from his late residence. Rev. W. E. Rollins, D.D., of the Theological Seminary will conduct the services in the absence of the Rev. W. J. Morton, rector of Christ Church, of which Major Greene was a member. The funeral will be attended by the members of R. E. Lee Camp, of Confederate Veterans. Commander William A. Smoot has issued an order requesting all members to appear in uniform at the residence at 4 o'clock. Interment will be made in Ivy Hill cemetery.

DISAPPOINTED VISITORS.

Tourists Who Come to Alexandria Unable to Enter Braddock House.

Since the owner of the Braddock House evicted the tenants and closed the building hundred of people from different parts of the country who have examined other historical spots in Alexandria have been disappointed when they found they could not enter the building where Washington and Braddock held their memorable conference.

Heretofore all visitors to this city entered this historic structure and upon their return to their homes told of inspecting this colonial mansion.

A number of strangers who were here today left the intersection of Cameron and Fairfax streets disappointed because they could not examine the interior of the structure. Some had to content themselves with proceeding to Lee street and viewing the house half a square away.

Brass and Enameled Beds at Very Unusual September Prices

Beds that can be depended upon to give satisfaction—that will afford year-around service—that are worth much more than the prices at which they are now marked.

Not alone does the attractiveness of this offering lie in the fact that the quality is high the prices low—though we acknowledge that these two features are very strongly evident—but the designs are new, attractive, fine enough to take their places in any bed room and not suffer in comparison.

And we want to make this point clear, too—the Bed Department has been moved to the fourth floor, G street, formerly occupied by Rugs and Floor Coverings. In this new space the display and arrangement is far superior to any we have ever been able to offer, and consequently a great aid in selecting with more ease and freedom.

STATE FINANCES.

Balance on October 1st Will be Large Finances Now in Good Shape.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 15. — When State Auditor Moore closes his books for the fiscal year October 1st, he will have considerable more cash to his credit than he did a year before. At that time he had in real cash balance something like $400 .

This year he will have close to $400,000 according to the best lights before him.

There are uses in plenty for the money which will be found in the treasury as of October 1st. There is no need to hurry for a part of it, for chances are that if opportunity offers the State will invest a few thousand dollars in State bonds and save the interest.

The public school system needs a part of this money; the State hospitals need it for caring for the unfortunates;the roads need it to make the roads more passable; the office holders need it to fatten their salaries, the State needs it for a new library building; it is wanted to provide a home for the Virginia Industrial School for Girls.

PASSING OF THE STRAW HAT.

Yesterday was the last day, according to the dictates of fashion, that the straw hat could be worn and the seasonable weather reconciled one to the arbitrary law which says that the straw lid must go. There were a few persons who braved the decision of the majority this morning.

Few men deposit the straw hat in the attic and brush the dust off the derby with any sense of comfort or relief.

Although the derby hat has been prescribed by the umpires of fasnion for 30 years, it never gained much ascendency outside of the more conventional communities. That suggests some inherent unsuitability. It seems to live an artificial life in cities and towns, where man is considerably sheltered from the elements by buildings.

One never seems so helplessly and absurdly unable to cope with his surroundings as on a windy day in a city street, when wearing a hat that threatens every moment to blow into the gutter. Your hands are busy with packages or umbrella. The derby rattles and "shucks" on your scalp like a wooden block. You point your head at the veering gale, hoping to prevent old Boreas from getting a leerage under the stiff protruding brim.

With some unexpected shift in the breeze, the black shell of felt breaks loose, and bounces along with impish glee in the dirt. It eludes your outstretched hand, while the Small Boy laughs tumultuously.

Out under the wide sky, where man battles with elemental nature, few men wear derby hats, save the tramp who has consented to take one at the back door. The more elastic soft hat is preferred, since it clings to the forehead. Equipped for storm, one faces the wind with a sense of fitness and stimulation.

Even in cities many informal and unconventional persons have an increasing desire for a style that shall adjust itelf to the weather better than the derby.

One objection to the soft hat for town life is that custom says you must keep lifting it to women friends. It is too limp and floppy to come off gracefully, and it soon warps all out of shape. The problem of autumn and winter headgear for men is not yet solved.

TERRIBEE CRIME OF A PRIEST.

After two "positive identifications" of the remains of the young woman found floating in the Hudson river last week, a priest of the Roman Catholic Church has cleared up the mystery by confessing that he cut the throat of the woman, dismembered her and at different times cast the gruesome parts into the river.

The details in connection with the blood thirsty deed are revolting and it would seem that the brutal act was either committed by a madman or a fiend.

The only reason given by the self-confessed murderer is that "he killed her because he loved her so much."

The priest, possessed of passions and instincts as other men, had fallen in love with his pretty victim. After performing his own nuptials, he lived with the young woman until he became aware of the fact that it was a matter of a short time when the relations of the couple would become apparent. He therefore determined upon the horrid course which has marked him as black as Cain.

"She was so beautiful, so good, I could not let her live without me. I had made up my mind that she and I could not live together. I was a priest, and must remain with my church. I could not let her go away from me," are among the utterances of this fiend incarnate.

The story in its entirety is more inhuman than that of any in the annals of Newgate.

The increasing number of grimes among ministers of the Gospel is attracting attention. Hardly a week passes without some scandal or more serious matter is brought against wearers of the cloth.

When, however, it is considered that there are so many men in the world engaged in conducting church services, it should not be a source of wonder if a certain small percentage should bring reproach upon their calling. Unfortunately, however, the thoughtless world holds all responsible for the short comings of the few.

But the case of Rev. Schmidt is peculiar. Others who took upon themselves vows to celibacy when they found they were not intended for lives of single blessedness, renounced their vows and remained faithful to the women who had confided in them. Schmidt, however, conceived one of the most frightful and cruel murders on record in order to eliminate all traces of his acts and virtually committed a dual murder rather than leave his ecclesiastical calling.

POPE'S VIGOR WONDERFUL.

Cardinal O'Connell Describes Recent Visit to the Vatican.

Boston, Sept. 15.—Cardinal O'Connell, who recently returned from a visit to Rome, delivered a short address to the congegation in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross yesterday, in which he spoke of the Pope's death.

Our Holy Father enjoys woderful vigor for one of such age, so advanced in years, but especally with such tremendous burdens to bear, with so many difficulties to surmount and with so many dailytrials to face, he said. During my stay in Rome he granted me various audiences and appeared almost completely restored to health and strength, and had already begun to take up his work as usual."

Piedmont, W. Va.—James K. Polk Johnson, town treasurer, died suddenly here of heart disease. He was born near Winchester, Va., and was 67 years old.

At a Corporation Court of the City of Alexandria, continued and held at the Courthouse of said City on Thursday, the 21st day of August, 1913. Present Hon. Louis C. Barley, Judge.

Douglass, has not been found within the jurisdiction of the State of Virginia, it is ordered that she appear within fifteen days after due publication of said order of publication and do what is necessary to protect her interest in this suit.

And it is further ordered that a copy of said order of publication be published once a week for four successive weeks in the Alexandria Gazette, a newspaper published in the City of Alexandria Va., that a copy be posted at the front door of the Court House of said city on or before the 1st day of September, 1913, that being the next succeeding rule day after this order is entered, and that a copy of said order of publication shall be sent by registered mail by the Clerk of this Court, addressed to the said non resident defendant at 414 Erie Avenue, Williamsport, Pa., her last known place of abode.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear Father and Husband, Samuel W. Gaines, who departed this life one year ago yesterday, Sept. 14, 1912.

The loss of my dear husband
Grieves my heart from day to day,
Sweetest thoughts for ever linger
Around the grave where he is laid.

Rest on, dear Father, your work is o'er,
Your willing hand will work no more.
Home is quite another place
Without the smile of your dear face.

ALEXANDRIA GAS.

(Communicated.)

To the Editor of The Gazette:

The people of Alexandria are a patient community but there is no imposition put upon them like that of the Alexandria Gas Company. All housekeepers who use gas for cooking purposes know what they have to contend with. The quality of the article is bad enough in all conscience but when it comes to practically none at all, it is going a little too far. Persons are beginning to ask what the city running its gas plant for any way?

(Editor's Note:—The author of the above card is evidently in error his statements or there must something the matter with the pi in his house. Certainly there is general complaint with the gas fu ished by the city.)

INSURANCE.

Thomas McDermott died yesterday at Cleveland, O., in a hospital of a fractured skull, received late Saturday in a railroad crossing accident, in which his sister, Mrs. Patrick Riley, was instantly killed. The automobile in which they and four others were riding crashed through the lowered gates at the east 65th street crossing of the Erie Railroad and ran against a passing passenger train, Patrick McDermott received probable fatal injuries, while Riley and his two small children escaped with painful,but not serious injuries.

The amazing financial transactions of the late George E. Williams, a Boston insurance man, reputed to have been a millionaire, which have come to light during the last 48 hours ,have been overshadowed by the story of how he led a dual life for ten years without his real wife suspecting her husband's duplicity. Williams and his wife lived in Braintree, a suburb. For ten years, it is known, he also maintained a home in Plymouth. The young woman who is said to have presided over his home is missing. It is believed that she is a former stenographer. The millionaire had no assumed name. He was George E. Williams in both Braintree and Plymouth, which are less than 40 miles apart .

Present: Hon. Louis C. Barley, Judge.

Ella Carter Ahl,
Vs. In Chancery.
William Frank Ahl.

Whereas, on the 11th day of July, 913, upon the application of complainant stating specifically the last known place of abode of the defendant, and it appearing to the Court that process had been issued and returned by the Sergeant of the City of Alexandria, Virginia, showing defendant not being found within the jurisdiction of this court, an order of publication was granted in accordance with the statute in such cases made and provided, and a copy of said order directed to be published once a week for four successive weeks in the Alexandria News, a newspaper published in the City of Alexandria, Va.; and

Whereas, before the completion of said publication as required by statute the said Alexandria News suspended publication; It is therefore upon the application of the complainant this 25th day of July, 1913, adjudged, ordered and decreed that the Court doth grant the following order of publication, to wit:

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree divorcing from the bonds of matrimony the complainant, Ella Carter Ahl, from the defendant, William Frank Ahl, on the ground of wilful abandonment and desertion for more than three years last past prior to institution of this suit, and for general relief; and an affidavit having been filed that William Frank Ahl is a non resident of the State of Virginia, it is ordered that he do appear here within fifteen days after due publication of said order of publication and do what is necessary to protect his interests in this suit.

It is further adjudged, ordered and decreed that a copy of said order of publication be published once a week for four successive weeks in the Alexandria Gazette, a newspaper published in the City of Alexandria, Va., and that a copy be posted at the front door of the Court House of the Corporation Court of said City on or before the next succeeding rule day after this order is entered; and that a copy of said order of publication shall be sent by registered mail by the clerk of this court addressed to said non resident defendant at the Home of the Aged and Infirm of the District of Columbia, at Shepphard Landing District of Columbia.

SHOOTS HIMSELF.

Street Car Conductor Fires Bullet Into Breast After Quarrel With His Wife.

Richmond, Sept. 15.—Following a quarrel with his wife, Warren H. Hughes, nineteen years old, a street car conductor, fired a bullet into his left breast yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at home of his mother, Mrs. Etta N. Hughes, of 512 North Fourth street. The bullet, from a .32 calibre revlver, passed about two inches above theheart and lodged in his back. At the City Hospital, where he was taken, it was said that his condition was serious.

Hughes shot himself before the eyes of his wfe, while both were in the bathroom.

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH.

Playing With Matches, She Sets Fire to Her Clothing.

Philadelphia, Sept. 15.—Igniting her clothing while playing with matches, Margaret Shultz, 5 years old, of 1215 Taylor street, received burns yesterday afternoon in the kitchen of her home that caused her death a few hours later in the Women's College Hospital.

The child was playing alone in the kitchen when she was fatally burned. Her mother heard her screams and ran to her assistance. Wrapping the blazing girl in the folds of the cloth, she succeeded in extinguishing the flames. Policeman Kling, of the Fortieth district, was passing the house at the time of the accident. He too heard the agonized cries of the child and helped the mother in smothering the blaze. He then ran to the hospital with thegirl, but she died several hours after being admitted.

THE LATE TIM SULLIVAN.

Business Houses and Dwellings Draped and Pictures of Dead Man Shown in "Movies."

New York, Sept. 15.—Almost 20,000 people—some in broadcloth and wearing diamonds, but the majority in humble garb—many in rags, even lined the pavements of the old Bowery today as the funeral car bearing the body of the late Timothy D. Sullivan, one-time king of the East Side, was slowly driven from the Timothy D. Sullivan Tammany Club to old St. Patrick's Cathedral on Mott street.

Twenty members of the United States House of Representateives, of which "Big Tim" was a member, were detailed by Speaker Champ Clark to form the escort, and behind them marched a silent, sorowing column of East Siders whom Sullivan called "my own people."

Scores of business houses and humble dwellings, and even the dime bunk houses were draped in mourning and even in the "movie' 'theatres pictures of the dead leader were flashed on the screen with the unvarying sentiment, "We Mourn our loss."

The casket, which had been lying in state in the clubhouse on the Bowery since Saturday night, was covered with a floral blanket of 2,000 roses and 2,000 chrysanthemums. Club members said that this floral tribute cost $1,200, and there were hundreds of other offerings from political and personal friends, officeholders and societies.

Requiem mass was celebrated in the cathedral by Mgr. John Kearny who has known "Big Tim" since Sullivan was a newsboy on the lower East Side.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

"I was taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it I was cured. It also cured others that I gave it to," writes M. E. Gebhart, Oriola, Pa., that is not at all unusual. An ordinary attack of diarrhoea can almost invariably be cured by one or two doses of this remedy. It is one of the most successful preparations that has been discovered. Thousands have testified to its value. For sale by all dealers.
